CHAUTAUQUA SCENES REMIND US THAT DATES FOR BIG WEEK ARE ALMOST AT HAND

1. Children's hour at a Redpath Chautauqua. Each morning and afternoon during the local program there will be sessions under the supervision of a competent "story girl." 2. Chautauqua tent staked and ready for raising. Crew men are underneath, tugging at the ropes which pull the heavy canvas into place. In the background is the Y. W. C. A. building which adjoins the Chautauqua grounds at Youngstown, O. 3. One of the best features of children's work at the Chautauqua is the training in folk drills under the supervision of the "story girl." In this picture the girls are shown in the midst of one of their daily exercises. 4. Tent crew and superintendent at an Ohio Chautauqua. The Redpath tent men are chosen from various colleges in states where the circuit is operated. One young man is gatekeeper, another is property man, a third is electrician and head usher, and a fourth is cashier. The superintendent, or platform manager, is the Chautauqua's guiding force. 5. An afternoon crowd leaving the Chautauqua tent. All ages and classes are represented, for it is to all ages and classes that the Chautauqua appeals. 6. "Story girl" in Indian costume, interesting the children at an afternoon meeting of the Junior Chautauquans. The stories this summer are entirely different from those previously used. 7. The gateman is an important member of the Chautauqua crew. His post is beside the green ticket can which is so familiar at the entrance to the Chautauqua grounds.

THE FIRST PAPER

When Adam's Eve began to do the housekeeping for Adam, she had no cares such as pursue the modern Adam's maid. She did not know what was the rage, because there was no Woman's Page.

She did not get a Daily Hint from Paris full of passion to start her on a daily sprint to keep up with the fashion. She did not haunt the beauty stores in order to keep open pores.

When Adam capered home at night (he was no wearied plodder!) he did not shiver lest he might be served with curious fodder. There were no papers so you see there was no Household Recipe.

Old Adam was a happy bloke and lived a life most cheery. He did not know that he would choke some day with his bacteria. Adam and Eve had never read Health Articles to scare them dead.

Eve never went through Adam's breeks when he was sweetly dreaming, because there were no Bargain Weeks to tempt her to such scheming. The serpent thought she was a goose. She was too good for any use. The serpent was a clever brute. Though he'd not been through college, his sanctum made him mighty cute. It was the Tree of Knowledge, "Adam," he said, "I'll publish, free, The Daily Eden Apple Tree!"

The first edition raised a row whose scandal shocked creation. Since that first issue Adam's brow is wet with perspiration. It told the scandal, rich and rare, that Eve had not a thing to wear!—From The Mergenthaler Lines O' Type News.

TOPOGRAPHIC SURVEY OF OHIO NOW COMPLETED

The topographic survey of the entire State of Ohio has just been completed by the National Government. The United States Geological Survey, has just finished surveying every square mile of its territory, and is now engaged in engraving the maps for publication.

The work was done in tracts of nearly 14 by 18 miles square (called quadrangles) and the resulting sheets, when all are printed and pasted together, would make a map of the state about 20 feet square.

It took 212 sheets to cover the entire area of 41,240 square miles, but the "squares" around the edges overlap into neighboring states. The scale of the map is one inch equals one mile, and streams, railroads, wagon roads, towns and all other features are shown, even down to school houses and residences.

The most remarkable feature of the maps, however, is that they show how high every place is above sea level. This is done by the use of "contour lines," which correspond to imaginary shore lines.

If the sea should rise in flood 1550 feet, then the last bit of land in the State would go under water, for that is the elevation of Campbell hill (the Mount Ararat of Ohio), near Bellefontaine.

Two sons of Mr. Campbell, who owns the property, are students in civil engineering at The Ohio State University. It is possible that an especial monument will be set on this hill, marking the highest point in the State.

HOW THEY WASH.
Because they use too much water and too little soap, women do not get the same dazzling whiteness in their washed clothes as do the United States Marines, Sergeant Clarence D. Rhoades, of the Marine Corps, told a party of society women visiting the battleship Utah today.

"The eye-painning brilliance of our white clothes is due to the fact that we wash with our heads as well as our hands, and we let soap do its proper share of the work. Just enough water to thoroughly wet the wash is sufficient," the sergeant continued, "and the less water and more soap one uses should arrange automobile parties to the whiter the washing will turn out. The fair visitors seemed greatly impressed with the lesson given them in an art that is dear to every woman's heart."
